

Estancia tops among 25 rated private courses in the state

◀ And for those will to spend the big bucks to join a private club, Estancia is without question the best course in the state.

Forest Highlands, a heavenly course in Flagstaff, No. 2

Bill Huffman, the golf writer for The Arizona Republic/The Phoenix Gazette, selected the state's top private courses based on challenge, fairness, design and visual appeal.

Several courses in Arizona are not listed because they are yet to be rated, most notable the new Apache course at Desert Mountain.

TOP 25 PRIVATE COURSES

1. ESTANCIA

Without question the best course in Arizona, and also the most expensive to join. Tom Fazio took the north slope of Pinnacle Peak and transformed it into sweeping fairways, stamped with awesome tee boxes and greens. Huge boulder piles and a sea of stately saguaros enhance the boldness of this prime piece of property.

The best course in Arizona – Estancia – also is the most expensive to join. Tom Fazio took the north slope of Pinnacle Peak and transformed it into an awesome visual display.

Reprinted with photo modifications from The Arizona Republic, Sunday, January 21, 1996.